On The Way

The Mass in Slowest Motion: The Penitential Rite

After the noble entrance and greeting that remind us of our Christian dignity, the priest then invites us to acknowledge another reality: our sinfulness. Brethren (brothers and sisters), let us acknowledge our sins... This self-accusation might seem absurd, even psychologically unhealthy. But the first step in our relationship with God is the acknowledgement that He is God and we are not; He is holy and we are sinful. Thus Mother Church has us express this at the start, and so prepare ourselves to celebrate the sacred mysteries.

The Roman Missal gives three options for the penitential rite. Practically speaking, only two are ever used. One consists of three invocations, followed by Lord, have mercy...Christ, have mercy...Lord, have mercy. The most common form is the Confiteor: I confess to almighty God, etc. This prayer has its roots in the liturgy of the 8th century, although the version we have now is considerably simpler.

This simpler version still serves as a powerful expression of sorrow for sin and confidence in God's mercy. We confess both to almighty God and to one another because sin has this twofold effect. It offends God and hurts one another. What a remarkable thing that we acknowledge to one another that we have sinned and harmed one another. If prayed sincerely these words cannot but foster humility within each of us and mercy toward one another.

Then we express the manner in which we have sinned: by thought, word, action, and omission. Sin is simply the abuse of God's gifts. He calls us to serve Him with our mind, in our speech, and by our actions. We sin when we use those gifts against the intention of the Giver.

Then each of us admits that I have sinned through my fault, through my fault, through my most grievous fault. And as we say this, we softly strike our breast three times. This practice comes with the highest recommendation, as it is the gesture of the tax collector that our Lord singles out for praise: the tax collector stood off at a distance and would not even raise his eyes to heaven but beat his breast and prayed, 'O God, be merciful to me a sinner' (Lk 18:13).

The Confiteor concludes with an appeal to other members of the Church to pray for us: Mary, the angels and saints, and one another. It is another reminder that at Mass we are united with the entire Church — throughout the world and throughout time.

Then the priest prays, May almighty God have mercy on us, forgive us our sins, and bring us to everlasting life. This simple, beautiful prayer can take away our venial sins. But it is not sacramental absolution and does not substitute for Confession. The whole penitential is concluded and crowned with the threefold invocation Lord, have mercy...Christ, have mercy...Lord, have mercy. This is most properly sung as the confident appeal of the soul to the mercy of God.

St. James in Action

On Sundays over the next few months, this page will highlight the various ministries that help make our Parish an active and thriving one. We hope that these capsules will explain what our ministries are striving to achieve and that you may feel spurred to add your own talents and energies to one, or more, of these ministries. You will also find opportunities to volunteer your time and talents to support causes around the Parish.

St. James Bereavement Ministry

The mission of the Bereavement Ministry is to console parishioners and family members of parishioners who have suffered the loss of a loved one by offering our prayers for the soul of the deceased on behalf of the Parish. The Ministry is notified when a funeral is scheduled; two members volunteer to attend the funeral, praying with the family for their beloved one. A condolence card is given to the bereaved on behalf of our St. James faith community. Throughout the year our focus is to pray with love for all the deceased members of St. James and their families. The ministry calls each family to invite them to attend the annual Mass of Remembrance on All Souls Day. Email is the primary method of communication within the Ministry, and the Ministry meets in person twice a year for about an hour. If you are interested in joining the Bereavement Ministry please contact the rectory at 703-532-8815.
