On The Way

The Mass in Slowest Motion: the Preface, II

Great buildings have great entrances. We never just walk directly into a cathedral or basilica, concert hall, stadium, or even an important office. We always first encounter some area that prepares us for the space we are about to enter. That's the purpose of a narthex, vestibule, lobby, etc. This is true even in smaller buildings. Our church has a modest narthex, and your homes and offices have lobbies, front halls, and foyers.

So also with the Mass. The Eucharistic Prayer is the main building of the Mass, the great space in which we worship with all the angels and saints. The Preface is the narthex or vestibule that leads us into that most sacred space. Its purpose is to prepare our minds and hearts for what is to come. This explains the preface dialogue's formal and elevated exchange between the priest and people. It also explains the text of the Preface.

There are various Prefaces in the Roman Missal. Certain feasts require particular Prefaces, but at other times the priest chooses one from among the options available. What they all have in common is the introductory statement of purpose: It is truly right and just, our duty and our salvation always and everywhere to give you thanks...through Christ our Lord... The phrasing might be slightly different now and then, but the same truth is always expressed: to offer worship to the Father through the Son. Prior to entering the Eucharistic Prayer we remind ourselves of this purpose.

The central part of the Preface always expresses some truth of the faith that relates to the particular feast or season. The reasons for our thanksgiving are manifold. The Preface in effect expresses the reason for it at a particular time. For example, and not surprisingly, the ancient Easter preface gives the cause for our worship as the redemption fulfilled on that day: For he is the true Lamb who has taken away the sins of the world; by dying, he has destroyed our death, and by rising restored our life.

The Preface leads us into that sanctuary not made by human hands – heaven itself (cf. Heb 9:24). So it fittingly concludes with a reference to heaven's inhabitants, the angels: And so, with Angels and Archangels, with Thrones and Dominions, and with all the hosts and Powers of heaven, we sing the hymn of your glory, as without end we acclaim... As that prayer (from Preface II of Advent) indicates, at Mass we do more than just think of the angels; we unite with them in worship. The worship they offer to God face to face in heaven we offer sacramentally, by way of sacred signs and under the form of bread and wine. That is the only distinction. In other ways we are one with them in worship.

The preface ends with the Sanctus: Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of hosts... And that should be understood literally: the end or purpose of the Preface is to bring us into the Sanctus, that ancient and eternal hymn of the angels before the throne of God that we are privileged to share.

Next week: The Sanctus

Novena to the Holy Spirit, May 22 to 30

Please join us in praying the Novena asking the Holy Spirit to shower us with His gifts and to fill our hearts and minds with the "peace of God that surpasses all understanding " (Phil 4:7).

The Novena this year will include daily emails and short video reflections by Father Scalia. We will conclude the Novena with a special Mass on Pentecost Sunday, May 31 at 10:30am. We will live stream this Mass for those unable to attend.

We will also have a special Pentecost Collection to help with lost offertory due to the suspension of public masses on March 17. Thank you in advance for your kindness and generosity.

“Come, Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of Thy faithful and enkindle in them the fire of Thy Divine love.”

See our website for more details: stjamescatholic.org.

Second Collection for Sunday, May 17

Our second collection is for the Diocesan Retired Priests. This fund provides key assistance to the older, retired priests of the Arlington Diocese who gave their lives so that we might have the sacraments. Thank you in advance for your generosity!

Special Parish Needs Collection, Throughout May

Throughout the month of May, you can give to our Special Parish Needs Collection. This collection is used by our Pastor for the areas of greatest need in the parish. It is normally used for our vibrant Social Outreach efforts, such as our food distribution that WDMV News recently covered, <https://bit.ly/2WsOFMe>. It is also used to cover unforeseen parish expenses.

School Support/Virtual Gala Dates

The COVID-19 outbreak resulted in the cancellation of the PTO's Emerald Gala scheduled for March 14. The PTO has two more "QVC-style" auctions on the following Tuesday evenings via ZOOM beginning at 7:00pm: May 26 (Remaining tangible packages) and June 9 (Teacher packages).

If you would like to participate, please contact Dawn Behrens at dawnyschiller@hotmail.com. She will send you a ZOOM invitation.

Masks for St. James Parishioners

Saint James Catholic School's American Heritage Girls Troop 0681 has worked very hard on creating cloth masks for parishioners who need one. The troop will be leaving the masks in the front vestibule of the Church, in a basket marked for them. If you need a mask, please take one. We thank the American Heritage Girls, especially Ms. Lucia Hunter, for organizing this vital project.

Adult Confirmation

Rectory Ramblings

Don't forget, every Monday and Friday, at 8:00pm, Father Scalia and Father Oetjen joyfully, and thoroughly answer your theological questions. Tune-in at <https://bit.ly/3dsk0VY>. If you have question for the Fathers, send it to communications@stjamescatholic.org.

St. James WorkCamp Volunteers Delivered Meals to Residents at the Ronald McDonald House in Falls Church

On Tuesday, May 5, St. James Diocesan WorkCamp volunteers: Avery Tarutani, Pierce Ryan, Elijah Sullivan (left to right), delivered meals to the residents of the Falls Church Ronald McDonald House. The meals fed families staying at the RMH who are faced with a child's illness and don't live close to the medical facilities that their child needs.

Due to the current stay-at-home order in VA, the St. James WorkCamp volunteers are hoping to do a modified summer service camp that meets the safety needs for all volunteers while achieving the mission of serving those in need.
