Stewardship

The Transfiguration of the Lord

“And he was transfigured before them; his face shone like the sun and his clothes became white as light.” - Matthew 17:2

Just as the moon reflects the light of the sun, we should reflect Christ’s light to the world. When we receive the Eucharist, the body and blood of Jesus, we are called to be supernatural to reflect His love, mercy and forgiveness to others. When we are grateful for all that God has given us, generosity flows through us because we are made in God’s image.

From Our Seminarian

In today's Gospel we find Peter, James, and John seeing God in His glory. Through the Transfiguration God's glory is made perceptible creating a powerfully vivid memory. In the second reading, Peter reflects in his old age on this experience. "We did not follow cleverly devised myths when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we had been eyewitnesses of his majesty." This is not the ravings of an old man seeking to relive some past glory; this is a truth-inspired recollection of his experience with the Lord so powerful it transfigured his life.

However, our society does not dispose us to this type of self-reflection. I have noticed myself falling into a sort of trap recently: using my phone, computer, or cleaning and reorganizing my desk for no particular reason except to be doing something. This vice is known as acedia (uh-Chay-dia), a lack of concerted effort towards a goal. It can manifest itself by over-activity or laziness. In Dante's Purgatorio those that lived the vice of acedia are strengthened by running back and forth following a flag, becoming a kind of antidote to their actions on Earth. They are no longer aimless, but actively pursuing a goal of reaching that flag. There are many things which distract us from our goals. Today, we can see this in our overuse of our cell phones.

This is not to say that technology is the only distracting factor but it does habituate our minds to this vice. It is an easy way to procrastinate. We can 'swipe' what amuses us without any intention other than to fill our attention. The greater evil can seep in when we let this habit infect the rest of our life. When our minds become used to interacting with an app we begin to understand the world only as if it were an app: constantly looking for the next bit of entertainment or insightful article without really digesting it. It is like perpetually being in a waiting room rather than working on our mission.

Our life mission usually begins with a particular event, like Peter, James, and John at the Transfiguration. Today, I think we rarely take the time to sit back and reminisce to remember these events that set us on our mission. The event when our love for something became so great, we made a commitment. I can remember the evening after I asked the Vocations Director to begin the application process for seminary and the great peace I experienced meditating on the Blessed Mother and discernment. When my life in seminary ebbs and flows, I can revisit that one moment where it all began, as well as the many others since.

For me, the best way to experience deep recollection and renewal is on a retreat to the wilderness. A regular retreat would work well, too, but personally I enjoy and experience the most reflection in the woods. In solitude and silence I can reflect, "Where have I been and where am I going?" This is the simple question for both the periodic retreat and a daily afternoon examen to help us be more mindful. A commitment to daily undistracted prayer, to visit or (re)visit how Jesus is working in your life is the perfect way to answer: what is getting in the way of my relationship with Jesus and how can I do better?

~Robby Renner

The collection is designed to collect certain items of food that are hard for the McKenna center to obtain during the summer months. These items include canned fruit, canned meats, hearty soups, syrup, and squeezable jelly. This project is being run by Edward Vasquez, a graduate of St. James Catholic School and a member of Boy Scout Troop 681 and will serve as Edward's required Eagle Scout Project. If you would like to donate, then please drop off food at the table outside of Church that weekend. Thanks for your generosity.

1955 - GOLDEN AGE CLUB

In 1955, more than one older parishioner of St. James was looking for a way to socialize with others while family members were away at work or school. And so the Golden Age Club was born, fostered by a handful of parish women with the backing of Father Heller. Among the founders were Irene Bannach, Marie Carrasco, Mary Winters, Ann Guida and Simone McCauley.

Seniors gathered in what is now Heller Hall for weekly card games and bingo. With their own by-laws providing for annual elections, the Golden Age Club prospered. They eventually moved operations to the Falls Church Community Center in 1969. The Golden Age Bingo Club continues to meet there weekly.

Howard Herman, retired Director of Parks and Recreation for Falls Church, remembers: "When I first started to work for the department while I was a student at George Mason, my main task on Tuesday mornings was to set up the gym for the Golden Age Club. The club was very active and vibrant with over 100 members. It was a good time and a great group of people."

Now St. James Seniors meet monthly for fellowship – still in Heller Hall. Each meeting features a program and meals or desserts. Begun in the early 1990s for widows and widowers, now St. James Seniors welcomes all parishioners who claim the designation "senior citizen." Meetings are on the third Thursday, even in the summer. Watch the Bulletin for the next gathering!
