Stewardship

"Do nothing out of selfishness or out of vainglory; rather, humbly regard others as more important than yourselves, each looking out not for his own interests, but also for those of others."

Saint Paul reminds us of our interconnectedness; we exist not just for ourselves but for others. We do this by actively espousing the Beatitudes. So too, Scripture reminds us that we are to be good stewards of the many blessings and talents God has given us. Through our offertory programs, we literally feed the hungry and clothe the naked; we show justice and mercy; we comfort the sorrowing. This weekend we ask that you prayerfully consider increasing your offertory commitment so that we continue to be "doers of the word." Thank you.

Meet Sister Margaret John!

Sister Margaret John Stichter arrived at St. James in August. She visits our homebound parishioners and coordinates the Partners in Prayer ministry, which gives those who can't come to church an opportunity to pray for the intentions of our community. An only child, Sister Margaret John took care of her own mother for 12 years and understands the special gifts and challenges of being a caregiver. "I consider it a special privilege to do this work, to bring them the Blessed Sacrament," she said. Our Eucharistic Ministers to the Homebound assist with this ministry.

Sister Margaret John is a native of Delaware County, Pennsylvania, and attended Our Lady of Charity in Brookhaven and Notre Dame in Moylan. After high school, she entered the IHM community, which she had met in grade school. She earned her Bachelor of Arts in Education from Immaculata University and a Master's in Elementary Administration from Rowan University in New Jersey. Her first assignment as a teacher was at St. Madeline in Ridley Park. Eventually, Sister Margaret John became a school principal, a role she filled for twenty years in Chester and Delaware counties. She was serving at an early learning center in South Philadelphia when her community asked her to consider homebound ministry at St. James. "I'm happy to be here," she said. "I appreciate how welcoming people have been."

Partners in Prayer Welcome Your Intentions!

There are boxes in each vestibule for you to leave your intentions. Each month, intentions are collected and distributed to homebound members of our community. Our partners in prayer relish this opportunity to remain connected to the parish and do the most important thing any of us can do: pray.

Help Us Connect With You

THE BELLS: Part I

Forty years ago, on September 18, 1977, the parish presented a gift of bells to their retiring pastor, Monsignor Paul V. Heller, at a Mass of Thanksgiving "in gratitude to God for his faithful priest." Here is the "Story of the Bells," told by Dan Schmidt, chairman of the Bell Committee, in the October 1980 edition of Round & About St. James. (Edited for length.)

In March 1977, during an attempt to resurrect the old bell in the tower of St. James, the Bell Committee, composed primarily of Joe Baxter, Vince McAlevy and myself, started talking about the possibility of adding more bells.

The Paul bell, decorated for presentation.
(Picture by Anne D. Goodson)

At that time none of us had any knowledge of bells. We began making telephone calls and finally reached the I. T. Verdin Company, one of the few active companies in the world that sells and installs musical bells. A representative of the company, Frank Della Penna, a Master Carilloner with an international reputation, made an evening visit to the tower with members of the Bell Committee and met with the Men of St. James. The Board of the Men's Club authorized the Bell Committee to proceed with a plan to replace the old steel bell with tuned musical bells.

Brad Curry, then Men's Club President, looked into bank financing and handled all the bell finances. The Men of St. James were willing to assume complete financing, and several members signed notes, putting their personal resources on the line.

The reason behind the bells became Monsignor Heller. He would soon be retiring, and no one knew what his next move would be. We all thought it would be meaningful to give him something while he was still here and, knowing his love for St. James, something that would be a part of the parish and a permanent remembrance of him. But we wanted the gift to be a complete surprise, and we had to proceed with caution.

The size of the bell tower and the supporting frame already in place meant that a bell carillon could be installed. It was decided to install a three-bell peal, to be rung manually. The bells were cast by the Petit & Fritsen Company in Holland, a company that dates back more than four and a half centuries! Each bell is totally unique: a separate mold is made for every bell cast and, after the casting, is broken. The metal, a mixture of pure copper and tin, is brought to 3000° and poured into the molds. The decorations and inscription are formed by the "lost wax" process where the artist and sculptor use a form of wax to mold the dedication and ornamentation by hand. As the molten metal is poured into the mold, the wax melts and the metal takes its place.

The three St. James bells are named Paul, John and Minnie after Monsignor Heller and his parents. The naming of bells is a required practice in the Catholic Church and ties into the ceremony of blessing the bells. The dedication of Paul, the largest, was composed by Vince McAlevy. We were told that it is the longest inscription ever put on a bell of this size.

If anyone has any pictures of the interior of St. James Church before the renovation in the early 1950s or pictures of the interior of the Old Convent Chapel--or if anyone has memories of these places, please contact Carol Anne Jones (jonescaa@gmail.com), who is currently putting together a book on the history of St. James for the parish. Thank you!
