From Our Pastor

"Have you come to believe because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed." John 21:29

Sight is an important element in Scripture. From Genesis where God sees his creations and declares them "good," to Samuel, "stand still and see this great thing the LORD is about to do before your eyes," (1 Sam 12:16), to the prophets and evangelists. Throughout the Old and New Testaments, we see the importance of recognizing God, of acknowledging Jesus as the Christ. Sight gives proof; sight equates to belief.

Today's Gospel is known as the Great Commissioning. Except for two, the disciples had seen the Risen Jesus. Their faith was rewarded with the physical proof of His resurrection. At first bewildered and afraid, they are now ready to share the Good News. We know Thomas' story; we know he still needs that one-to-one, personal experience of Christ. We know how his story ends, or rather begins.

The disciples are commissioned to build the Church, to "write on a scroll what you see." To provide proof that they can be trusted; that what they saw was real and transformative. The power of their words, of those recollections of amazing sights and experiences, transcends centuries precisely because the lives of the authors were radically changed. Inspired and led by the Holy Spirit their examples became proof of the power of belief for future generations.

We "see" this today. We see how personal encounters with Christ can change lives. We experience Him profoundly in the Sacraments, but so too in the business of everyday life. The kindness and compassion we extend to others and which is extended to us is like touching the wounds on Christ's hands. We come in contact with Jesus through others. We are both examples and recipients of His mercy.

The recent fire at the cathédrale Notre-Dame shocked the world. Crowds gathered before this iconic testament to faith, aspiration, and creativity. They cried and prayed as they saw her glorious spire crash upon her roof. We all saw the destruction and felt the loss. That this fire occurred at the start of the holiest weeks of our liturgical year was ironic; yet as it replayed on live TV, it was an odd precursor to the Triduum: our sense of loss, the worry, and grief of the crowds somehow mirroring (in a small way) the sense of loss of Good Friday. What our eyes saw cannot dampen what we feel in our hearts. The soul of our faith is not housed just in the wood, stone, and glass which comprises Notre-Dame. It is not housed here in the beautiful stone, wood, and glass of Saint James. It is housed within us. And no fire can destroy that.

I ask you to join the Great Commission, to carry all the joy of last week's celebrations into our world. Let others see Christ in you; be that transformative catalyst for them. Happy Easter!

~Fr. Posey

"Eternal Father, turn Your merciful gaze upon all mankind and especially upon poor sinners, all enfolded in the Most Compassionate Heart of Jesus. For the sake of His sorrowful Passion show us Your mercy, that we may praise the omnipotence of Your mercy for ever and ever. "

Adult Confirmation Opportunities Classes Start April 30

After Easter, St. James will hold a series of three classes to prepare adult candidates for Confirmation. If you are a baptized Catholic who received First Communion but have not had the chance to receive the Sacrament of Confirmation, the Church welcomes you to partake in this grace-filled Sacrament. Bishop Burbidge will celebrate Adult Confirmation this spring on Sunday, June 9 at the Cathedral of St. Thomas More in Arlington at 2:30pm.

Classes will be held in Knecht Conference Room (Doors 8 & 9) from 7:30pm to 9:00pm, on these dates: April 30, May 7, and May 14.

To register for the classes or for more information, contact Fr. Oetjen at 703-532-8815 or fatheroetjen@stjamescatholic.org.

How to Keep Your Faith in College – April 30 & May 7

“How to Keep Your Faith in College,” is a new, free, two-part series for all St. James students, and their parents, in grades 9-12. Meeting on April 30 and May 7 at 7:00pm in the St. James School library, the series, led by Deacon Ed and his team of catechists, will tackle the issues that students will grapple with on their college campuses:

- The spiritual characteristics of a typical Catholic teen heading off to college
- The weaknesses that make their faith vulnerable at school
- Three significant threats to the Catholic faith found in the university environment
- What we (as Catholic students and parents) can do to build our defenses and preserve our faith during these crucial college years

The class will include multiple handouts, opportunities for group discussion, and videos by noted Catholic speakers, including Bishop Robert Barron and Father Mike Schmitz.

With Faithwire reporting in its January 23, 2019 issue that over two-thirds of students abandon their faith during their college years, this is a class that nobody who will be attending college should miss.

To register for the series, or to get more information, contact Deacon Ed at dcned@stjamescatholic.org.

Support HOPE in Northern Virginia

The St. James Social Outreach and Pro-Life Committees are once again reaching out for help to HOPE in Northern Virginia (our neighbor on Park Avenue). HOPE is a Christian, pro-life pregnancy resource center dedicated to empowering women to choose life. While HOPE owns the house outright, there are many everyday expenses that go along with owning a house as well as helping pregnant mothers and their babies. There are always other items that need to be purchased regularly including diapers, wipes, baby bottles, etc.

On the weekend of May 4 and 5, the Outreach Committee and Pro-Life Committee will be handing out baby bottles after all the Masses. We are asking parishioners to fill the bottles during the week with coins, bills, or a check (made out to St. James) and return the bottles on May 11 and 12 (Mother's Day). Both the Outreach Committee and the Pro-Life Committee will be outside of the church that weekend collecting the returned bottles. Your children may want to get involved too, with helping to fill the bottles. Please encourage them to do so.

More details about HOPE are available at www.hopehousenova.org. Any questions? Please e-mail HOPE at hopeinnova@gmail.com.
