From Our Pastor

In 1963 the Second Vatican Council produced the landmark document, “SACROSANCTUM CONCILIUM” which, among other liturgical items, allowed for the Mass to be said in the vernacular. Allowing for the Mass to be said in the languages specific to individual dialects was meant for fuller participation by the laity. Now we would not just recite words, but we would know them, truly know them as from our hearts. This is not to say that the traditional Latin Mass is not beautiful, but having an option available opened the doors to those who were previously unable to partake in our great communal Eucharistic feast.

The evangelist Luke’s recounting of the Pentecost reminded me of this great change, now more than 50 years. Just as the Holy Spirit came upon the variety of peoples assembled in Jerusalem that day, the Word of God comes to us directly. No translation needed.

What still strikes me as I re-read these Scriptures is the incredible diversity of the audience. The entire known world at the time was represented. From places as far away as the stretches of Northern Africa to Rome itself, the people gathered there are the epitome of our universal catholic, church. They are the parts to the Mystical Body that Saint Paul describes. That same body of which we remain a part today.

Luke maintains his theme of mission in the Acts of the Apostles. His Gospel focused on Christ’s missionary work which He in turn bequeathed to his disciples. Now, in the aftermath of Christ’s ascension, he reveals that Jesus’ message is for all nations and peoples. We are all called to hear the Word of God and Do the Word of God. A sentiment which our patron Saint encourages us to live!

Language is not a barrier to God’s grace. Geography is not a barrier; Class, social division, race, etc. — none of these should prevent us from meeting Christ in word, sacrament, and community.

Summer is almost upon us. Students will happily trade in those textbooks; vacations will be planned, and life takes on a different pace. A different language. We talk more about relaxing, of barbecues, and fireworks. But the language of our faith does not change. It is just as relevant during the dog days of summer as the heady days of Christmas and Easter. I ask you to continue to be open to the Word of God and the message of salvation it brings. Bring that openness to others as you sit by the pool. Invite a friend or visiting relative to Mass with you. Let them hear for themselves.

Our School children have their last day, June 11. To them and all the children getting out of school this week, their families and especially their teachers, I wish you a blessed summer.

~Fr. Posey

Congratulations to fourth grade student Anna Nassar!

She is the 4th Grade Division winner of the national Dear George Washington Contest! It is an annual writing contest from the Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History. The contest introduces students to the issues facing early Americans and encourages them to think critically about the founding of our nation. Anna won $100 and a copy of "American History: An Introduction" for St. James.

Check out Anna reading her winning essay here: <https://bit.ly/30QAVfH>

Maryland Science did an on sight field trip for first and second grade. It was called Fairy Tale Engineering! They had to solve the problem of building the three little pigs a sturdy house, build a better ladder for Rapunzel than her hair, and build a bed for the princess so she couldn't feel the pea underneath. ## Your Patron Saints: St. Anthony of Padua – Patron Saint of Lost Souls

We all know that St. Anthony of Padua is the “Patron Saint of Lost Things,” and I am sure that we have all, at least once, invoked his aid in finding a misplaced item – it’s a daily occurrence in my house. But, more importantly, he is also the patron of lost souls, helping those who have fallen into mortal sin, or who have left the Church, or who have become apathetic about their faith, to confess their sins, return to the Church, and renew their faith.
